

“Archiving Internet Folklore”

Deepika Deepika

10th Winter School of the GSCSA student seminar abstract

This project explores the influence of technology and the internet in the preservation and dissemination of Nyishi folklore from India. A rapid transition from a traditional way of life to modern-technology embedded life has changed the folk culture of Nyishi community. Now, it is time to identify the folkloric material, its production and circulation on the online platform and how it is shaping the Nyishi identity. Since everything is becoming online and life has been shifted to online platform, this project will focus on the digital archiving of Nyishi folklore.
